AFT Pennsylvania Legislative Guide 2026-2027

A Message From The President

As a member of AFTP, you are a part of a network of more than 36,000 members among 76 locals. At a time when we have continued to see attacks on our educational institutions, our right to organize, and our democracy, our unity and our voices are more important than ever.

That's why AFTP put together this Legislative Guide to help you more easily contact your elected officials about the issues we care about – because if there's one thing we know for sure, it's that our elected officials need to hear from us!

There are high-stakes fights happening in the halls of Harrisburg and Washington, DC right now, and we know that hearing directly from AFTP members can sometimes tip the scales in critical moments.

What's at stake right now?

Both federal and state legislators are considering expanding vouchers throughout the Commonwealth, ensuring that our public schools receive the funding that the State Supreme Court ruled they are entitled to, attacks on our rights to organize, attempts to gerrymander our districts, and more.

The time to speak up about these issues is today, and I sincerely hope that this guide is a valuable resource for our members – both those who are new to lobbying and those who have met with their legislators many times before, alike.

Onward,

Wendy G. Coleman
President, AFT Pennsylvania

Pennsylvania General Assembly

The 206th session of the General Assembly convened at 12 p.m. on Tuesday, January 7, 2025. The formal opening was followed by the election of officers.

All sessions have unlimited law-making scope. Each session is two years in duration, beginning the first Tuesday in January of odd-numbered years and ending at midnight on November 30 of even-numbered years.

Contacting PA State Legislators and U.S. Congressional Members

Communications sent to members of the State Legislature while it is in session should be addressed in care of the Senate or House P.O. Box, Main Capitol, Harrisburg, PA 17129. In most cases, legislators may be contacted in their home districts in the latter half of the week.

Members of both chambers should be addressed by mail as "The Honorable." For House members, the proper salutation is "Dear Representative." For Senators, use "Dear Senator."

Communications sent to members of Congress in Washington should be addressed to them at the Senate Office Building (zip 20510) of the House Office Building (zip 20515).

The proper salutation for U.S. House Members is "Dear Congress(man/woman)." For Senators, use "Dear Senator."

Letter Writing and E-mailing

Union members are encouraged to write or email their legislators in support of positions adopted by their unions and the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO. Contacting your elected legislators will help secure progressive legislation for working people.

- Keep your letter short and clear.
- Identify bills by title and number.
- State the reason for your position

EMAILING TIPS

- Make the subject line work for you.
- Express urgency.
- Limit your message length.
- Keep your message clear and concise.
- Limit actions per email.
- Use key statistics and cite sources.
- Email your own legislator or member of Congress.

Lobbying Law Registrations

Who must register?

As of January 1, 2007, all lobbyists, lobbying firms, and principals must register on separate statements with the PA Department of State within 10 days of acting in any capacity as a lobbyist, lobbying firm, or principal, unless exempted by Section 1306-A of Act 134 of 2006. The registration forms and information are available at:

<https://www.pa.gov/agencies/dos/programs/voting-and-elections/lobbying-disclosure>

Activity That Constitutes Lobbying

Tips on Lobbying

You may not realize it, but you are just as important as the hundreds of paid lobbyists who work the halls of Congress and the Capitol in Harrisburg. You're important because you live and vote in your legislator's district, and it's the job of your lawmaker to represent you.

Lawmakers need to be told firsthand by union activists and citizens back home what issues are important to workers and the labor movement. When lobbyists representing big business or other special interests lobby against our interests, legislators can say, "That's not what I hear from the people back in my district."

Lobbying is a process of giving and gathering information for the purpose of persuading a legislator to support a particular point of view. For any lobbyist, a key objective is to win a commitment from a lawmaker. In the lobbying game, there are a few "rules of the road" which can help grassroots lobbyists succeed at influencing their representatives. Some are obvious, common sense procedures, while others are more subtle skills practiced by seasoned lobbyists.

Here are a few guidelines:

1. Preparation

- Review the legislation - Go to the General Assembly website www.legis.state.pa.us and look for the section, "Find Legislation." Enter that Senate or House Bill number, if known. Otherwise, enter a keyword related to your search (for example, "liquor").
- Always plan ahead - Try to make an appointment in advance, if possible. Ask your legislator to meet with you or a group on your home turf when you will have his/her undivided attention.
- Know the legislator - Familiarize yourself with their background, voting records, and previous positions.
- Do your homework - Legislators and staff deal with many issues and aren't experts on all of them. Therefore, you have to know your issue well enough to explain it to them. Be aware of the status of the bill, the number of the bill, and what committee it has been referred to.
- Personalize the issue - Give examples of how the issue will effect you or your co-workers who are also constituents - whether it's a plant closing, unemployment, etc.
- Bring a fact sheet - A brief fact sheet or position paper on the subject is very helpful.
- If meeting as a delegation - Always have a spokesperson for the group and have questions prepared by some of your delegation so that there is wide participation from the group.

2. Precision

- Get right to the point - Don't get sidetracked.
- Ask the legislator for a firm commitment.
- Make sure you hear what was said - Not what you wanted to hear.
- Maintain your credibility - Never second-guess or speculate. If you are unsure of the answer to a legislator's question, it's okay to say, "I don't know, but I'll get back to you with the answer."
- Never take anything for granted - Don't assume you will get a legislator's support based on last year's performance. Make sure of their vote.
- Ask the legislator to go out front for you - Either by co-sponsoring a bill or lobbying other legislators or speaking on the floor, if the legislator is with you.
- Ask the legislator to refrain from leading the fight against the bill - If the legislator does not agree with your positions on a bill.

3. Professionalism

- Never keep a legislator waiting - Their time is as important as yours.
- Greet the legislator with a firm handshake - Identify yourself and your organization, and then get down to business.
- Past support - If the legislator has supported your issues in the past, always thank them for their support.
- If something is told to you in confidence - Keep it that way.
- Always allow give and take on the issues.
- Don't take rejection personally - There will be times when a legislator can't support your position. Thank them and tell them there will be other issues in the future.

4. Politeness

- Be cordial.
- Know when to back off - If a legislator is hostile, don't argue. Either move on to the next issue or thank them for their time and excuse yourself.
- Never threaten a legislator - You may need them on another issue.
- Give the legislator a call or visit to thank them - If you do get the support and the vote from your legislator.

Contacting Members of Congress

The second session of the 119th Congress convened on January 3, 2025.

The U.S. Senate has 45 Democrats, 53 Republicans, and 2 Independents. The U.S. House has 213 Democrats, 219 Republicans, and three vacancies. Pennsylvania's Congressional Delegation has eight Democrats and 10 Republicans.

Communications set to members of Congress in Washington, D.C. should be addressed to them at their respective Senate or House Office Buildings, as listed under each of their names on the following pages.

Members of the House of Representatives should be addressed as:
The Honorable NAME
United States House of Representatives

Members of the U.S. Senate should be addressed as:
The Honorable NAME
United States Senator

The proper salutation is:
"Dear Congressman/woman NAME" or
"Dear Senator NAME"

When contacting members of Congress about pending legislation, refer to specific bills by number whenever possible. If you do not know the bill number, you can search for current or past legislation here:

<https://www.congress.gov/search?q=%7B%22source%22%3A%22legislation%22%7D>.

When writing to a Congressperson or Senator, your analysis of an issue should be the most important ingredient in your letter. In general, be concise, polite, and reasonable. If the issue is particularly complicated, brevity may be difficult to achieve. In such cases, try to limit your focus to a specific aspect of the issue in order to make your letter as brief as possible.

Avoid form letters – Members of Congress and Senators usually respond to form letters with form letters. Instead, construct an argument in your own words and personalize your remarks as much as possible. You will enhance your credibility and elicit a more detailed response.

NOTE: When writing to the Chair of a Committee or the Speaker of the House, it is proper to address them as:

Dear Mr. Chairman: OR Dear Madam Chairwoman:
Dear Madam Speaker: OR Dear Mr. Speaker:

Members of Pennsylvania's Congressional Delegation
